

Writing Contest Awards Ceremony will be part of the Festival opening ceremonies Saturday at noon in the Clarkson Student Center. Afterwards, first and second place winners are invited to read their work aloud in a breakout room.

Thank you to all of the teachers who participated and the 90+ students who submitted entries to the contest. All of the submissions were wonderful; winners were those who judges found best responded to all aspects of the contest prompt while conveying significant ideas and details.

A news release after the Festival will thank participating teachers and judges, all of whom worked very hard in support of the student participants.
